NEW PDF FILES

The Heritage Center now has searchable PDF files available for church records, microfilm, family Bibles, almanacs, as well as birth, death, and marriage announcements in the Schwenkfeldian through 2006. The files, created from a data base, allows researchers to find specific records from our collection. There still is no individual name index, but the new, electronic format allows researchers to search by record name or names, location, denomination, dates and even record compiler. These are only available for use in the library.

SCHWENKSVILLE ITEM MICROFILMING COMPLETE

Through the Pennsylvania Newspaper Project at Penn State University, the Heritage Center has been able to have the remainder of its Schwenksville Item newspapers microfilmed. The entire collection is now available for researchers to use. All years up to 1989 are available (there is no 1946 in the collection): this includes the years 1878-1880 when the paper was known as the Weekly Item. Special thanks to Ted Judd for his assistance in completing the grant for this project.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

The Heritage Center needs friendly people seeking a rewarding experience welcoming visitors. Our front desk receptionists are very important volunteers—they are the first contact for researchers, tourists, genealogists and others who stop by the Heritage Center. Call Debbie Dunkelberger at 215-679-3103 to find out how you can become part of this vital team.

NEW LOCAL HISTORY PHOTO BOOK RELEASED

Authors Jerry A. Chiccarine and David W. Luz hold the newly released Images of America local history photograph book, The Upper Perkiomen Valley, which became available shortly before Christmas. The book has been selling briskly in the Heritage Center gift shop and other book retailers.

Through postcards and photographs, The Upper Perkiomen Valley illustrates the culture as it existed in this area almost a century ago. Previously unseen images create an understanding of the past, a connection with the community and pride in this beautiful region. Jerry A. Chiccarine, author of Along the Perkiomen (an Arcadia publication), has lived all his life along the Perkiomen Creek and is an avid postcard collector. David W. Luz is the Executive Director of the Schwenkfelder Library & Heritage Center. Together with local researcher Naron Kemmerer Gebert, they organized and assembled this book with the support of the archives and staff of the Schwenkfelder Library. The authors are donating all proceeds from the sale of the book to benefit the Schwenkfelder Library & Heritage Center.

The Schwenkfelder Library & Heritage Center, in partnership with the Lorax Foundation of Hereford Township, Berks County, is delighted to announce a photography contest and show to be held this autumn in the Heritage Center's Meeting Room on the first floor. All are invited to submit their photography of the natural beauty or historic landscape of southeastern Pennsylvania (see guidelines below) for the show, which is titled "For the Beauty of the Earth".

The Lorax Foundation is dedicated to the preservation and conservation of the natural and historic landscape in Hereford Township and the surrounding area. They are collaborating with the Heritage Center to raise awareness of the need to preserve open space in our communities, and our many significant historic resources. Lorax is the sponsor of the first prize, $100, for the contest in the adult category.

* The photography contest is open to all ages with separate categories for children and adults. The preliminary guidelines are as follows:

* Photographs may be no larger than 8x10 (image size) with a mat size of no larger than 12x14.

* All photographs in the adult category MUST be matted. Matting is also encouraged for children's entries but mounting on a sheet of matboard or cardboard will be accepted for children only, as long as the size does not exceed 12x14.

* One submission per person

* The theme of the contest is the natural or historic landscape of southeastern Pennsylvania. This includes Philadelphia, Delaware, Bucks, Montgomery, Chester, Berks and Lehigh counties.

* The "natural landscape" includes photographs of nature, including plants and animals, or your friends, family and pets interacting in the southeastern PA landscape.

* The "historic landscape" includes photographs of historic sites and places in southeastern PA.

* The adult category is for ages 18 and up; children's categories are ages 7 to 13 and 14 to 17.

* All submissions will be exhibited; judging will occur from all of the submissions, with first, second and third place, honorable mentions, and a people's choice awarded in each category.

The Lorax Foundation is the sponsor of the $100 first place award in the adult category. All photographs must be submitted no later than SEPTEMBER 2, 2008. The opening of the show, with a public reception, is Sunday, September 28, 2008. Any questions—or for more info—contact Candace Perry at the Heritage Center at 215-679-3103.

SLHC WEBSITE UNDERGOING TRANSFORMATION

With a new navigation bar and design in development, our website will carry a larger web presence and become more efficient and user friendly. As a sneak peek, the education section of our website has taken on this new framework. In addition to the new design, several pages have been added to the education pages by featuring online resources, learning opportunities for adults, the Brown Bag lunch lecture schedule, German language programs and new family & homeschool programs. Watch as each area will take on the new structure and feature brand new subject areas. The Library pages will feature discoveries and current research from area scholars about our collection and contain valuable information for new and current patrons. The Heritage Shop page will undergo a complete reorganization to highlight guest artisans, new gifts and sale items. We will also feature pages that highlight the history of the organization and local area. Keep an eye out as we launch our new site.

BABY LOVE: TAUFSCHEIN AND OBJECTS OF BABYHOOD

April 13- October 14

Celebrate spring with our exhibit featuring selections from the extensive Geburts- und Taufschein collection of the SLHC and baby garments, quilts, furniture, ceramics and other baby-related objects from our museum collection. These examples of Pennsylvania German babyhood from the Perkiomen region and beyond are wonderful representations of the rebirth that comes to us every year with the spring equinox. Bring your favorite baby, or mom-to-be, and receive 10% off your gift shop purchase! (with some exceptions)

BY THE SWEAT OF THEIR BROW: WORK AND WORKERS IN THE PERKIOMEN REGION

March 25—September 15, 2008

The Heritage Center will present By the Sweat of their Brow, an exhibition about traditional forms of work and workers in the Perkiomen region. Using H. Winslow Fegley's extraordinary photographic record of rural work as a guide, the exhibit will feature the types of tools and equipment used for work in the home, farm and rural trades that are in the museum collection of the Heritage Center. The types of workers, including apprentices, indentured servants, and slaves will also be explored using materials from the Heritage Center archives. Many seldom or never seen obsolete objects of everyday life from the collection will be included in the exhibit.

UPPER PERKIOMEN VALLEY BASEBALL MEMORABILIA

Once again, May 5 to August 30, we feature the fantastic collection of local baseball memorabilia: photos, uniforms, baseballs, and bats for a special spring exhibition in the hallway between the Local History Gallery and the Library. On view will be some recent additions to the Heritage Center's baseball collection. Check out the roster of local leagues in the early and mid 20th century!

CHRISTOPHER SAUER: COLONIAL PRINTER

March 18—September 15, 2008

Christopher Sauer and his son by the same name were the most influential printers to the German-speaking people of Colonial America. This exhibit introduces father and son and tells the visitor their story. Through copies of rare 18th century imprints from their presses, a glimpse of their lives and their activities is revealed. The Sauer press was a natural place for the Schwenkfelders to turn when they had printing projects in the 1760s. Get to know these intriguing 18th century men from Germantown in this Art Gallery exhibit.

Many thanks to Mrs. Dottie Heebner for the donation of the Brad Smith bench made from material from the Heebner Barn recently removed from the farmstead in Worcester. Stop by and try it out!

EASTERTIDE TRADITIONS

Rebecca Lawrence; Allen Viehmeyer
Wednesday, March 12, noon and
Sunday, March 16, 2:00 pm

German Easter traditions have been modified and adapted in American culture; it was the German immigrants who brought the custom of the Osterhaws or Easter rabbit to the American colonies. The traditions of crafting egg trees, saffron egg nests, and Easter birds are no longer local practices, but the Easter bunny, Easter breads and decorated Easter eggs are still part of today's customs. A discussion with audience participation about the German roots of Easter traditions, focusing on lost Pennsylvania-German and German-American Eastertide customs.

CASPAR SCHWENCKFELD IN EXILE

Dr. Allen Viehmeyer
Sunday, April 13, 2:00 pm

Caspar Schwenckfeld was forty years old when he voluntarily left Silesia to live the remaining 30 years of his life in exile. In exile he lived in southern and southwestern portions of the old German Empire. This slide presentation tells the story of Schwenckfeld's life in exile, focusing on the cities and towns where he lived and the interesting people he met.

SCHWENKFELDER WOMEN: ROSINA DRESCHER HOFFMAN

Dr. Allen Viehmeyer
Wednesday, June 11, noon and
Sunday, June 15, 2:00 pm

Rosina Drescher stands out among the Schwenkfelder immigrant women for her legacy - a correspondence with Silesian relatives. Lasting nearly fifty years, this correspondence contains much information about family members and events both here in Pennsylvania and back home in Silesia. This slide presentation includes excerpts from these letters and places the information in its historical setting. Farming and other occupational activities mentioned in these letters will be featured.

Two Centuries of Childhood Mementoes: Schwenkfelder Documents from 1725 to 1935

Through April 30, 2008

“PICTURES WORTH A THOUSAND WORDS”: SCHWENKFELDERS AND EMBLEM BOOKS

Dr. Peter C. Erb
Tuesday, April 8, 7:30 pm and
Wednesday, April 9, noon

Among the many art forms that interested Schwenkfelders before and after their emigration to America were what are known as “emblems” – engravings, etchings, or woodcuts, depicting various objects, people, and activities alongside small mottos or poems directing the readers to reflect further on their meaning. These were often printed in complete collections known as “Emblem Books,” and equally often scattered throughout other books. In his presentation, Peter Erb will provide a background to the development of the emblem tradition, introducing some of the major uses of emblems in books preserved in the Schwenkfelder Library and comment on the importance of emblems for Schwenkfelders in earlier centuries.

AN OLD TYME TOUR OF THE UPPER PERKIOMEN VALLEY

David W. Luz
Wednesday, May 14, noon

FRIENDS ANNUAL MEETING THE BOYERTOWN OPERA HOUSE FIRE WITH MARY JANE LENTZ

March 30, 2008, 2:00 pm meeting, 2:30 pm program

Immediately following the Friends of the Schwenkfelder Library & Museum Annual meeting on Sunday, March 30, at 2:00 pm, Mary Jane Lentz will share stories of the Boyertown Opera House fire of January 11, 1908, that claimed the lives of 170 people. The conflagration, one of the worst disasters to hit Pennsylvania in the 20th century, resulted in the State Legislature of Pennsylvania move to enact common sense laws designed to protect lives. Come and hear Ms. Lentz tell us about this community tragedy. The public is invited to the program that will begin when the meeting is concluded about 2:30 pm. The program is free and refreshments will be served.
